BULLETIN 2

The Stewards notify all Competitors and Officials the following:

Due to the fact that the pit wall has no exit gate and the track marshals are not used to rescuing a car by pushing it, for safety reasons, the Stewards under exceptional circumstances allows the following procedure in case a car is stalled during the starting procedure:

If a car stalls on the grid, a rescue team will tow the car to the pitlane, from where it can continue the race. Therefore, this intervention is not considered as a mechanical help.
